

MULTICULTURAL YOUTH LEADERSHIP SUMMIT

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 2014

CALVIN L. RAMPTON SALT PALACE CONVENTION CENTER

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

The third annual Multicultural Youth Leadership Summit is hosted by the Utah Office of Multicultural Affairs (MCA) in support of Governor Gary R. Herbert's '66 by 2020' education initiative, a state goal that 66 percent of all working-age Utahns will hold a post-secondary degree or certificate by 2020. The Summit places emphasis on Utah's ethnic youth in encouraging them to pursue higher education.

This one-day program will bring together 1,500 students, parents, educators, and community and government leaders for a series of presentations and breakout sessions to encourage youth to become leaders in their communities and to keep themselves and their peers on track to reach their educational goals.

We are pleased to announce Nicholas Carlisle as the keynote speaker. Mr. Carlisle, a graduate of Oxford University, is an attorney (focus on human rights), psychotherapist and executive director of No Bully. Having experienced firsthand the reality of bullying in high school, he is committed to creating schools where every child feels accepted by their peers.

Join us in working together to engage, support, and invest in our youth!
